Let's Start!

Will you come visit the new office?

Learning Outcome

Describe characteristics of different people and their jobs.

Ask your partner:

- Would you like to work in a small quiet office or a large busy one? Why?
- Would you rather work inside or outside? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can say what I'm doing in the future.
- I can ask for clarifications.

Let's Explore!

Sally is at her meet and greet. Who does she meet? Does she meet the boss*?

* An event where a new employee goes and meets other people who work in their office.

 The person who is in charge of you at work.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hi. I'm looking for Marisa Mitchell.

Marisa: Hi! I'm Marisa, the production manager. You must be Sally.

Sally: Yes. Hi. Very nice to meet you. I'm here for the meet and greet.

Marisa: Welcome to the team. Let me show you around.

Sally: OK.

Marisa: We'll start with your office.

Sally: Could you clarify that please? Is it my own?

Marisa: Not quite. This is an office shared by the freelancers, but you'll all be in on different days.

Sally: I'm not quite sure I know what you mean.

Marisa: What I mean is that there might be times when you get the office all to yourself.

Sally: Ah, I see what you mean. Does the entire editorial team work here?

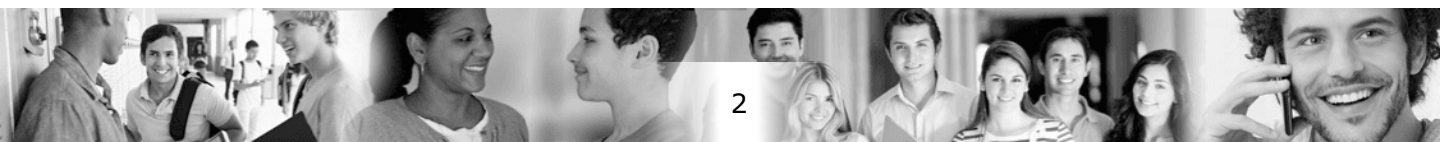

Marisa: Not everyone, but most of us do. You'll meet your boss today. You may meet the art director and the photographers. They're here every now and then.

Sally: Cool.

Marisa: I'll introduce you to our copy editor and proofreaders. You may want to get acquainted with them quickly.

Sally: Do you mean that I'll be writing soon?

Marisa: I don't see why not. Speaking of ... there's Victoria. She's the right person to ask about that.

Learning Points

Will, May, Might

You use the Future tense (will) to talk about actions you are going to do in the future.

You use the Future tense when you talk about the future, make offers or make predictions.

The modals might and may go before the verb.

They talk about future possibility or a chance that something will happen.

Might means there is a smaller chance that something will happen (30%).

May means there is a slightly greater chance that something will happen (50%).

Examples:

- I will show you around the office.
- You might meet a few members of the team.
- We may meet Ms. Ryan in the afternoon.

Asking for Clarification

If you don't understand what a person is saying, it is important to ask for clarification in a polite way.

Here are some expressions you can use to ask for clarification:

- I'm not quite sure I know what you mean.
- Are you asking ... ?
- What do you mean by ... ?
- Do you mean ... ?
- Could you clarify that?
- Could you give me an example?

Examples:

- Sally: Is this the office the journalists use?
- Marisa: Are you asking if this is your office?
- Sally: Yes.
