

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

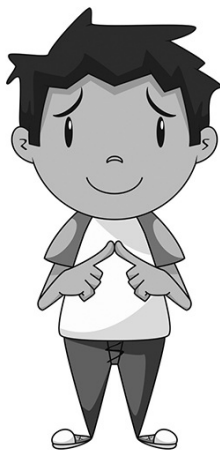

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Nervous? Excited? Scared? It's time to start a new job!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you work?
- If yes, were you nervous when you started your job?
- If no, how do you think you will feel when you start a new job?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can say what I'm doing in the future.
- I can introduce an opinion.

Let's Explore!

Sally shares some good news with Peter! What will he say?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Peter: So, Sally, did you hear from Cambridge Life?
Sally: I did!
Peter: And?
Sally: I believe that you're speaking to Cambridge Life's newest freelancer.
Peter: Well, well. You're now Ms. Sally Davis, the freelance journalist then?
Sally: That'd be correct.
Peter: When do you start? What will you do?
Sally: I might start as early as Thursday.
Peter: That's great. Sounds like you're going to have to put in a lot of hours.
Sally: I know. I'm going to be super nervous.
Peter: Yeah but personally, I think it's pretty exciting. Now I can say I know someone who works for a magazine. I'll brag about you to everyone I know.
Sally: Peter, it's just a freelance position. Nothing worth bragging about.
Peter: You might become a managing editor one day!
Sally: It will be a long way to go before I get to a position like that.
Peter: Wait, so, does this mean your name is going to be on the masthead?
Sally: Well, Peter. That is the general consensus when you work for a magazine.

Let's Practice!

Peter tells Sally what he thinks. Does she agree with him?

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

- | | |
|--------------------------|--|
| 1. I believe that | is that your name is going on the masthead. |
| 2. Sounds like | you're speaking to Cambridge Life's newest freelancer. |
| 3. Personally, I think | it's pretty exciting. |
| 4. The general consensus | you're going to have to put in a lot of hours. |

Let's Practice!

What about Sally's new job?

Instructions: Find and fix the mistake. Each sentence has 1 or more mistakes.

Sally will work as a freelazer for Cambridge Life.

Peter thinks she will have to putt in a lot of hours.

Peter will grab to everyone about Sally's new job because her name will be on the mashhead.

Sally will have a lung way before she can become a vice president.

Extension Activity

Share your opinion with a friend.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Pretend your friend needs some advice.
- Choose 2 different jobs.
- Your friend wants to know which of the two jobs to choose in the future.
- Write a dialogue (10-12) between you and your friend.
- Share your opinion about the jobs with them. Remember to introduce your opinion.
- Proofread your dialogue. Practice reading your dialogue aloud with a partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I introduce my opinion.

☐ ☐

I talk about the future.

☐ ☐

I talk about different jobs with a partner.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- masthead (noun): a printed list in each edition of a magazine, with people's names
e.g. Is your name going to be put on the masthead?
- to put in (verb): to spend time working e.g. I'm going to put in many hours.
- to brag (verb): to talk proudly
e.g. I'm going to brag to everyone about your new job.
- a long way to go (expression): a lot of work to do e.g. I have a long way to go before I can become an editor.
- managing editor (noun): a person who supervises the day-to-day operations of a publication
e.g. You might become the managing editor of the magazine in the future!
- consensus (noun): an opinion that everyone in a group agrees with e.g. That's the general consensus.

Learning Points

Will, May, Might

You use the Future tense (will) to talk about actions in the future. You can also use the modals might and may to talk about possible actions in the future.

The auxiliary will goes before the verb. The short form is 'll.

You use the Future tense when you talk about the future, make offers or make predictions.

The modals might and may go before the verb.

They talk about future possibility or a chance that something will happen.

Might means there is a smaller chance that something will happen (30%).

May means there is a slightly greater chance that something will happen (50%).

Examples:

- Peter: Oh Sally, you may just be one of the best freelance journalists I know!
- Sally: I might start my new job on Thursday. I'll be really nervous.

Learning Points

Expressing Opinions

You can express an opinion using one of the expressions below:

Some people say that ...

(That's) The/the general consensus ...

As far as I'm concerned, ...

Personally, I think ...

In my opinion, ...

Sounds like ...

I'd say that ...

I believe that ...

What I mean is ...

Examples:

- What I mean is, you might become a managing editor one day, Sally!
- Sounds like you're going to work long hours!

