

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Time for a chat in the office!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- What things do you like to write about?
- Imagine you are a newspaper writer. What famous person would you like to interview? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can talk about possible actions and events in the future.
- I can ask for clarification.

Let's Explore!

Sally has a chat with her boss. What do they chat about?

* A "chat" is a conversation.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Ms. Ryan: Sally, I'm Victoria Ryan, the editor-in-chief.
Sally: Pleasure to meet you, Ms. Ryan.
Ms. Ryan: Do you have some time to chat?
Sally: Of course.
Ms. Ryan: We'll chat in my office. Here is a copy of our editorial calendar. Next month's issue will focus on the citizens of Massachusetts. We want to do a feature on notable public figures. If this is of interest to you, you may put together a draft for me and this will be your first assignment.
Sally: Notable? I'm not quite sure I know what you mean.
Ms. Ryan: What I mean is anyone that's made a difference in our lives.
Sally: Ah, I am interested.
Ms. Ryan: Great! Before you start, you might want to speak to Tom, our senior editor. He's a great mentor to the juniors.
Sally: Sorry. I didn't get that. He's a great ... ?
Ms. Ryan: Mentor. After you talk to him, you'll understand what I mean.
Sally: I hope he can fit me into his busy schedule.

Let's Practice!

Junior or senior? Will you help Sally sort the details?

Instructions: Write the words in the correct category.

Word Bank

senior editor / public figure / to fit in / draft / schedule / editorial calendar /
copy / junior / editor-in-chief / to speak / feature

Person	Action	Thing

Let's Practice!

What are the things Sally will have to do?

Instructions: Reread the dialogue. Read the sentences. Fill in the blank with the missing word.

Next month's issue _____ the citizens of Massachusetts. _____ this is of interest to you, you _____ put together a draft for me and this _____ be your first assignment. Before you start, you _____ to speak to our senior editor. After you talk to him, you may have a better understanding.

Extension Activity

Choose a notable public figure from your city!

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think of important people in your city. Write their names down.
- From your list, choose a person you would like to write about.
- Do some research about them. What is their name? What was their job? Why are they important? What do or did they do? When were they born?
- Write a paragraph using the information you found.
- Proofread your paragraph. Read it to a friend.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I write about a public figure in my city.

☐ ☐

I talk about their work and job.

☐ ☐

I tell a friend about a public figure.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- editor-in-chief (noun): the person who is in charge of a group of editors (the editorial team)
e.g. I am your boss and editor-in-chief of this magazine.
- copy (noun): something that is made to look exactly like another thing e.g. Here is a copy for you to keep.
- editorial calendar (noun): a schedule for future issues of a magazine
e.g. You will find this editorial calendar to be very helpful when you are planning your articles.
- to focus on (verb): to give special attention to something e.g. We will focus on the the citizens of Massachusetts.
- feature (noun): a piece or pieces of writing about a subject in a magazine
Example: We want to do a feature on important citizens.
- public figure (noun): a person who is well-known to the public e.g. We want to focus on public figures.
- notable (adjective): important; well-known
e.g. There are many notable public figures in America.
- draft (noun): a piece of writing or a plan that is not finished e.g. You may bring me a draft of your article when you come in.
- assignment (noun): a piece of work that someone asks you to do e.g. This will be your first assignment with Cambridge Life.
- to fit in (verb): to see someone, even when you have a lot of other things to do e.g. I hope he can fit me into his busy schedule.

Learning Points

The First Conditional

You can use the first conditional to talk about actions and situations that are possible in the future.

There are two parts to the sentence.

One part is the condition. The other part is the result.

Form:

If + subject + Simple Present tense + subject + will/won't*

You use a comma after the condition in this form.

*You can use other words instead of if. You can use before, after or when.

You can flip the two parts of the sentence so that the result comes first.

Condition	Result
Before you start,	you may want to speak to the editor.
After your meeting,	we will chat.

Result	Condition
You'll need to give me a draft of your article	when you come to see me.
This will be your first assignment	if this is of interest to you.

Learning Points

Asking for Clarification

If you don't understand what a person is saying, it is important to ask for clarification in a polite way.

Here are some expressions you can use to ask for clarification:

- I'm not quite sure what you mean.
- Sorry. I didn't get that (point)?
- What do you mean by ... ?
- Did you say ... ?
- Could you clarify that?
- Could you give me an example?

Examples:

- Ms. Ryan, could you please clarify what it is I will write about?
- Did you say a feature on the citizens?
- Sorry. I didn't get your point about the new editor.

